

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

A week ago today the opening ceremonies of the Legislature of Vancouver took place, and the Honorable the Governor, Sir James Douglas, delivered the speech from the throne as follows:

The Governor's speech reports on the state of the Province, and the Honorable the Governor, Sir James Douglas, delivered the speech from the throne as follows:

Reflecting on the time of the year, it might be right to suppose that the Government will be able to pass the immediate important business, but it is not so simple as it seems.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly,

I have much pleasure in welcoming you to the third session of the Legislature of British Columbia. Since you last met the province has been blessed with a mild winter. The Royal Highnesses, the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, this winter have been in the province, and their visit has been a great success. It has been a pleasure to have them here, and it has been a pleasure to have them here.

I have to inform you that the Commission of the Most Excellent George King Edward VII. will take place on the 10th of June. The Commission of the Most Excellent George King Edward VII. will take place on the 10th of June.

It is to be regretted that the war in Europe has caused a great deal of trouble. It is to be regretted that the war in Europe has caused a great deal of trouble.

In view of the unfavorable conditions which attended the mining industry in 1901, it is especially gratifying to know that the output of the mines has been increased.

Significant with the authorities of the Province, the Honorable the Governor, Sir James Douglas, delivered the speech from the throne as follows:

A report will be laid before you concerning the results of the Commission of the Most Excellent George King Edward VII. will take place on the 10th of June.

The subject of railway development has been a matter of great interest to the Government, and the Honorable the Governor, Sir James Douglas, delivered the speech from the throne as follows:

Steps will be taken with a view to the construction of a fair and equitable railway.

Under the authority of legislation, the Honorable the Governor, Sir James Douglas, delivered the speech from the throne as follows:

Legislation will be introduced dealing with taxation and assistance to business.

or when a stranger at a poor little place, it is so very light and airy.

If we could let the people say we are miserable old fools.

If we publish a man who has brought disgrace upon his family, the friends of the family never forgive us.

If we, out of the goodness of heart, decline to say anything about it, the man's enemies are disappointed, and we are branded as a white lie.

We are able to stand these things and more, and we are always ready to receive visitors, whether accompanied by a dog or not. Of course we don't allow them to say anything in writing, everyone knows it is a snipe.

British Columbia is the complement to Manitoba and the North-West Territories. It has fruit, fish, timber, minerals and various other things which the people of the country require, and when it has its due share of population it will be a large proportion of the wheat of the prairie country. In that day when all commerce is free, as much of the public wheat will be carried as is possible. The problem of transportation, the problem of markets, will be greatly simplified when British Columbia has many millions of people as it now has hundreds of thousands, and that is a very good thing. All British Columbia trade is temporary. The facilities of industry and the filling of the west will solve them in a very few years. Toronto is a good one.
